UACK! QUACK! The Bancroft rd. reservoir is no place for ducks to make their winter home – ast in the opinion of Water Supt. Donald Bassett. He's been pretty successful in driving off ducks – only a few die-hards are still living in the town's drinking water. Portable chlorina- were put in use to maintain the purity of the water, while the ducks remain. (Staff Photo)

Comfy Or Not - This Is No Place For Ducks To Abide For The Winter

"Quack! Quack!" squawked the ducks, "this is living".

And to a duck-oriented brain, 'twas the truth.

A nice, open body of water; a few small fish; plenty of feed nearby in the Sanctuary. All the comfort of home - if you're a duck.

What matter if the water happens to be the town drinking water in the Bancroft rd. reservoir? That's just so much more water off the ducks' backs.

Not so to the rest of us; nor to state and town officials, whose bacteria-oriented minds were aghast at the sudden and lively count.

The high bacteria count started about the middle of last week - a couple of days after about 80 ducks took up living quarters in the reservoir.

And that's when Water Department Supt. Donald Bassett nearly took to the air, himself.

First, a portable chlorinator was dispatched to the reservoir and was in use by Saturday. That

Duff Approves Spending Method

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff has flatly, and with warm praise, endorsed the procedure by which one department does work for another, without charging for the time or equipment.

He gave specific approval to the procedure, during a meeting Monday night with the Recreation Committee and department heads who do work for the Recreation Department.

"We couldn't put enough dollars into recreation to cover the costs and explain it to people properly", he emphasized. Duff also stressed the bookkeeping complications, and the cost of administering this accounting procedure, if every bit of work was back-charged against the department for which it was done.

Elected Boards To Have New Members

Special Meeting Now Inevitable

A special town meeting appears to be the only possible way to get action on secondary school construction before 1965.

Legal rulings have shut off all sources of potential funds for the Building Committee - thus that group's first official action must be a request for planning funds, at the regular town meeting this March.

Efforts to make funds available through the School Department budget, based on funds appropriated last year for a study of the secondary school needs, fell flat.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff, the Selectmen and the School Committee were toying with the idea of putting funds in the 1964 school budget. This would have made it possible to use some money prior to March, for the purpose of getting preliminary plans.

But Town Counsel Fredric S. O'Brien and state Division of Accounts officials put a stop to that procedure.

State law requires that any

The chairmen of the town's two major elected boards will retire from office in March - thus precipitating some inevitable changes in personnel and perhaps a wild political scramble.

School Committee Chairman Dr. Milton J. Meyers announced Tuesday night that he will retire from office.

And Chairman James D. Wilson of the Board of Selectmen has also announced his decision against seeking re-election.

Selectmen Philip K. Allen and Robert A. Watters will seek three-year terms on that Board - the vacancy occurs in the incompleted term of B. Allen Rowland, to which Mr. Watters was appointed.

On the School Committee, long-time incumbent William A. Doherty has yet to make his plans known - but there is every reason to believe he will seek another three-year term on the Board.

Moderator Charles G. Hatch and Housing Authority member Thomas R. Wallace have not yet announced their plans.

In his announcement that he will retire from office this March, Dr. Meyers issued the following statement:

Given Preview Of Methods Used To Create Department

The evolution of a new department - or perhaps more appropriately its birth-pains - were described to the Recreation Committee Monday night by the town manager.

He first mentioned the probability that, at some future time, the recreation and park departments will be merged.

Then he went on to describe how such a merger begins.

A truck, requested for recreation use, will be denied in the 1964 budget. But one is being recommended for the park department. It will probably be garaged, however, in a recreation area.

"I told Les", (Leslie Bartow, recreation director) Town Manager Duff related, "bring it in gradually".

He suggested that park department equipment, stored normally at the schools, must be moved because of the storage of gasoline in the school buildings. The mowers and other equipment could also be placed in the central recreation area, where they can be properly housed, the manager continued.

"Maybe we'll need more men gradually", he went on, "and we can work out with the department heads how best to combine the services".

The manager said he has no doubt that eventually there will be a need for more manpower for recreation, to support the expanding program. But he warned the Committee to move ahead gradually - not by tremendous leaps.

Kennedy Will Head Bank

The Merrimack Valley National Bank has announced that the Baystate Corporation has filed, with the Securities and Exchange Commission in Washington, D. C., a registration statement covering a proposed offering of 52,500 shares of the common stock of Baystate Corporation in exchange for the outstanding shares of capital stock of the Merrimack Valley National Bank, whose nine offices are located in Andover, Georgetown, Haverhill, Lawrence, Merrimac, Methuen and North Andover.

It is expected that the Registration Statement will become effective about the end of January and that Baystate Corporation's offer of 1 1/5 shares of their stock for each share of Merrimack Valley National Bank will be made shortly thereafter by the mailing of a prospectus to each shareholder of the Merrimack Valley National Bank.

It was emphasized that if this offer is accepted by the Merrimack Valley National Bank shareholders, there will not be any changes in the directors of the bank that was proposed in the most recent proxy statement sent to the shareholders. The names of the directors and associate directors nominated in that proxy statement are:

It was noted that each area served by the bank will continue to be represented by the same local management.

It is expected that William R. Kennedy will be elected president at the bank's regular directors' meeting, following the consummation of the proposed exchange. Mr. Kennedy is currently on leave of absence from his post as president of the Union Market National Bank in Watertown. He is now devoting his full-time services to the Merrimack Valley National Bank.

Mr. Kennedy was born in Dedham, Sept. 12, 1917. He graduated from Needham schools, Bentley School of Accounting, Stonier Graduate School of Banking at Rutgers University, and the School of Financial Public Relations at Northwestern University. DUFF APPROVES SPENDING POLICY

Work Done

His comments came after Highway Supt. Stanley Chlebowski reported doing work, on which the labor charges alone would have exceeded $1,200. Water Supt. Donald Bassett told of doing small jobs worth several hundred dollars, as did Tree Department Supt. Philip Busby.

Some members of the Recreation Committee - notably Mrs. R. Milton Cole and Mrs. Charles Leigh - were aghast at the procedure. They had understood that all work done for the Recreation Department was being paid for via the budget.

It was in answer to their statements to the department heads, that they shouldn't have been doing this work without charging for it, that Mr. Duff gave his specific approval to the procedures.

The town manager noted that town departments can't operate as separate entities, and that "they are interlocking".

"Don't Worry"

Later in the meeting, when considering budgetary allocations, Duff told the Committee not to worry itself about work which might be done for recreation during 1964, but paid for by some other department.

He said the amount of work which may be done this way will vary, depending on the success and scheduling of other projects within the other departments.

The three department heads reitterated their cooperative attitudes towards recreation, and their willingness to help out wherever possible.

Only Praise

Mr. Chlebowski, obviously vexed by what he considered charges of no cooperation from the Recreation Committee, promised to continue helping, just as he has done for the past 30 years.

He was assured by the Committee, however, that any criticisms were meant for the town manager, who is in direct charge of public works for the town. Members stressed that they have only the highest record for the departments and the way help has been given.

Critize Manager

But they were critical of the manager, whom they felt could specify certain jobs and direct that work be done. This came as a result of complaints from Recreation Director Leslie Bartow that he couldn't get certain work done because he couldn't get equipment assigned, according to the members.

Foresight and planning were stressed as necessary ingredients of any cooperative arrangement, so that last-minute problems need not arise too frequently.

FinCom Attitude

Supt. Bassett raised - without apparent success - a question concerning a department's relationships with the Finance Committee, after spending part of the budget for another department's work.

He cited a specific example of some work he had not been able to get done in the water department for which funds were appropriated in 1963. Yet, he explained, man-hours enough to have done this job were actually spent on recreation.

He wondered how the Finance Committee is going to feel about such a situation, and whether the members of that financial agency will believe his future statements that one project or another is essential and must be done.

Bassett complained not at all about small jobs, within the ability of his crews to handle, but centered his questioning on the use of many man-hours or considerable budgetary amounts.

No Flexibility

Mr. Duff, in explaining his position on departmental spending, used this example:

If $2,500 for labor is included in the Recreation Department budget, the FinCom probably will claim this amount should be deleted from the highway budget, as the same men will be used by both departments. This would leave the highway fund short, in terms of maintaining the full crew for 52 weeks of the year.

Thus, he noted, it would then be necessary to assign several men to the recreation payroll for a lengthy period of time - probably much longer and greater, in equivalent man-hours, than would be the case if Supt. Chlebowski merely did the jobs as they came up. There would be little flexibility, he stated, and recreation would have more man-hours of work than is warranted.

"Live in your budget", the manager advised the Recreation Committee, "and don't worry about what isn't charged".

P. K. Allen To Seek Re-election

Selectman Philip K. Allen, 1 Highland rd., will seek re-election this March.

He has served as Selectman since 1959.

Mr. Allen is currently serving as president of Auto Marine Gard Inc. of Ballardvale.

He first ran for the office of Selectman in 1959, when the first Board of Selectmen was to be elected under the new manager-selectman form of government. He was re-elected in 1962 for a full three-year term, after having served the two-year seat under the old charter.

A former state senator, chairman of the Republican State Committee and political master-mind, Mr. Allen has also served in various state and federal administrative positions. He has been associated with Channel Two - the educational TV outlet as financial advisor and vice president. He has been active in many local and state-wide charitable activities.

He is a veteran of World War II, serving in the 26th Division as a private. He was discharged as a lieutenant colonel.

In announcing his candidacy, Mr. Allen commented that he hopes to see recommendations of the Charter Study Committee, which he originally suggested to the Board, put into practice during the coming year.

It was over 200 years ago that Benjamin Franklin, who relied on two pair of spectacles, took half a lens from each, glued them together in a common frame, and came up with the world's first bifocals.

Since Franklin's day, medicine has made great strides in combating serious diseases of the eye, as intricate an organ as the body has to offer.

Cataracts, once a dread disease, can now be treated surgically so that over 95% of the patients can expect to regain nearly normal vision.

R. A. Watters Seeks Full Term

ROBERT A. WATTERS

Selectman Robert A. Watters of Robandy rd. will seek a three-year seat on the Board this March.

Mr. Watters was appointed to the Board last June, to serve out part of the term of B. Allen Holland, who resigned. Instead of seeking election to the remaining years in that term, Mr. Watters has entered the contest for a full three-year seat.

President of the George W. Dingmoor Co. in Lawrence, Mr. Watters has long been active in municipal affairs.

He served as a member of the original Industrial Development Commission, resigning to become a member of the Finance Committee. His five-year service on that Committee included being chairman.

He also served on the local Land Acquisition Committee.

Mr. Watters is a former president of the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce and currently is a vice president of the YMCA and a director of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children and of the Andover Youth Center.

He has been active in various civic and charitable efforts, including the Boys' Club and the United Fund.

Town Employees Exceeded Goal

In the 1963-'64 United Fund Campaign, the Andover Town Employees, under the chairmanship of Acting Deputy Chief William T. Downs, raised a total of $8[illegible] thereby exceeding their goal of $775, which was the highest amount previously raised among this group in nine years of United Fund Campaigning.

Deputy Downs attributes this success to the active cooperation of the various department heads who provided an opportunity for each town employee to learn about the 29 member agencies of the United Fund.

Chorus To Sing At Men's Night

The Women's Evening Circle of West Parish Church will hold its Men's Night Thursday, Jan. [illegible] at 7:45 p.m.

A delightful evening is in store with the presentation of the Andover Community Chorus, a local singing group of 35 members under the direction of Keith Gould, head of the vocal and music departments in the Andover schools, and accompanied by Mrs. George Cole of Beech cir. Refreshments will be served, cabaret style, under the direction of Mrs. Fred Tarbox.

A cordial invitation is extended to all men and women of the church who would be interested in a pleasant evening of music to contact Mrs. Tarbox for reservations.

Award Of Merit For Flower Show

The Andover Garden Club has achieved the State Award of Merit for its Christmas Flower Show - "Lovely is the Yuletide" - held at the Amos Blanchard Historical Society House Dec. 3 and 4.

Mrs. Robert Richards, chairman of the Evaluation Committee of the Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts, has advised the Club that "The Andover Garden Club has achieved the State Award of Merit, given for an excellent Standard Flower Show". Continuing, Mrs. Richards said "The judges considered the Show outstanding".

The schedule was well interpreted by the flower-arrangers, and the staging throughout the Historical House was highly praised by the judges. Special attention was given to the excellent Horticulture Division and the imagination shown in all Divisions was considered superior.

The judges issued a special commendation to the Junior Garden Club for the quality of exhibits and members 100 percent participation.

The president, Mrs. Ralph H. Hill, co-chairmen Mrs. Edward C. Nichols and Mrs. Byron R. Cleveland Sr., and the Committee, were delighted at the interest shown by the public and are happy to report that 350 people attended the show in spite of the inclement weather.

The committee also thanks the membership of the Club for their support of the endeavor and adds that 94 percent of the membership was actively engaged in some manner in the show.

Sums Up Opinion Over Program

"If you pay for a director (of recreation), you need more of a program than in the past. It's silly only to have what we had before, with the added cost of the director".

That's Recreation Committee member Mrs. R. Milton Cole's opinion, expressed Monday night at a meeting of her Committee.

She summed up her feelings for Town Manager Thomas E. Duff, who had been urging Committee members to guide the director towards using facilities that are and have been available - at a low cost to the town.

Mr. Duff had been suggesting that the Committee should have urged Director Leslie Bartow to utilize existing ski and sliding slopes in the town, and organize a program for them, instead of trying to clear a new sliding and ski area at the former Camp Olympia.

Duff suggested that there are areas at the Country Club, among others, which could have been utilized. Lights, he suggested, might have been installed at the Country Club - even if this is private property - for nighttime use.

Mr. Duff was making the point that the Committee, in performing its function, should guide the director in these areas "without cost insofar as possible".

Mrs. Cole summed up her feelings precisely, with the statement quoted above, concerning a new program being needed, if a director is to be retained by the town.

ROBINSONS HONORED BY ASSOCIATION

At a recent meeting of the West Andover Community Association, held in the North Schoolhouse, Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Robinson Jr. were elected Honorary members.

Mrs. Robinson is a charter member of the Association and has held nearly every office in the organization. She has always contributed much of her talents to make the organization the success it is today.

Angry Comments Over Bus Data

Detailed school bus passenger counts, and mileage data has been presented to the School Committee by Supt. Edward I. Erickson.

The information was requested by member Mrs. Barbara Moody who said she needed it in order to analyze the school bus service.

It was given only after a short exchange of comments between Mrs. Moody and the superintendent over a registered letter sent to Mr. Erickson by the school committeewoman.

Mr. Erickson said he "resented" the tone of the letter, and that it had been sent at all. The document purported to itemize the times that Mrs. Moody had asked for the bus data, and stated that further absence of the material would be taken as a willfull attempt to conceal it.

Mrs. Moody, in defense of the letter, said it was the fairest thing to do - putting the superintendent on warning that she would make the charges if he did not have the material available.

Mr. Erickson said it had been on hand at the previous meeting when a schedule of routes was presented, but no one had asked to see the additional material.

Member John S. Sullivan urged that "The Spirit of Christmas" prevail, and that the subject be dropped from debate as a "misunderstanding". Member Vincent P. Davey sided with the superintendent, stating his opinion that individual members of the Committee should operate through the Committee and not alone.

The data read to the Committee gave bus loads, and mileage travelled on the routes.

In each case, Mrs. Moody asked where the bus started its daily mileage and was told by Mr. Erickson that it was at the owner's home.

He agreed with Mrs. Moody that presumably the driver-owner took the shortest route from his house to the beginning stop.

Will Not Run For Re-election

JAMES D. WILSON

tman James D. Wilson has ed his retirement from that his March.

Wilson has been serving as an of the Board during 1963.

He first sought the office in 1959, and was elected to one of the two-year terms under the new manager-selectman charter. He was re-elected in 1961 to a full three-year term.

Mr. Wilson has recently been named sales manager of his firm, Laird de Voux Inc. in Cambridge, and also serves the company as vice president. He commented that increasing sales responsibility has made it impossible to spend the time necessary to do a good job locally.

In announcing his retirement from office, Mr. Wilson noted that he has enjoyed working with elected and appointed officials during the five years. He further urged "civic minded people to come forward" and seek to fill the vacancy on the Board.

School Board Defends Emergency

The School Committee has vigorously defended its actions in replacing a boiler at the Shawsheen School, in the face of criticism from the Selectmen.

Meeting last week, the Committee and Supt. Edward I. Erickson pointedly reminded the Selectmen that there had been no warning of trouble with the boiler, until this past fall. Inspections prior to that time had indicated nothing of any consequence, they stated.

Selectmen William Stewart and Paul W. Cronin had charged, several weeks ago, that the School Committee should have put the cost of a boiler in the budget, because there was prior knowledge that it must be replaced.

They voted to approve an emergency, under which financing can be obtained for replacement of the boiler. But at the time, Selectman Stewart said the emergency need never have been permitted and Selectman Cronin agreed that this is the case.

Members of the School Committee were firm in their insistence that the Selectmen were misinformed on the subject.

And Member John S. Sullivan remarked that this appeared to him to be another "irresponsible statement" from the Selectmen. He referred specifically to a previous comment by the Selectmen that the school budgets never were available to them for scrutiny - the School Committee said the budgets always are available.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whiteside have returned to their home on Shawsheen rd. after spending several days at Steele Inn, Laconia, N. H.

Remove Mystery Over Candidates

An amended state law may take some of the mystery out of pre-election maneuvering.

The amendment will serve to identify potential candidates at the time their nomination papers are taken out at the town clerk's office.

The law now states that a candidate may have papers by asking for them.

But any other person, in order to secure papers for the candidate, must present written authorization to do so.

The amendment also stipulates that the state election division will no longer supply nomination papers directly to candidates, who did not wish to secure them in their own community.

In many local cases over the years, individuals have taken out nomination papers for someone else. Sometimes these were filed; occasionally the papers just disappeared.

Provisions in the law, as amended, will apparently serve to identify each candidate and the office he seeks at the time papers are secured.

Auxiliary Will Meet Jan. 14

The Women's Auxiliary to the Essex North Medical Society will hold a luncheon meeting Jan. 14 at the Andover Inn.

Following a buffet luncheon at 12:30, the featured speaker will be Nevis E. Cook, district director of the Pure Food and Drug Administration, whose headquarters are in Boston.

Mr. Cook's topic will be "Medical Quackery".

Reservations for members and guests must be made prior to the 14th, with Mrs. Charles Currier of Hidden rd., Mrs. Christopher Landry, 10 Woodland rd. or Mrs. Edmond R. Melucci, 4 Kensington st.

Mr. Cook holds B. S. degrees in chemistry and pharmacy, both from the University of Georgia. After teaching in public schools there, Mr. Cook accepted the position of district administrator, for the New England area, in 1959.

Mrs. Albert Rothseid, program chairman, will introduce the speaker.

Plans for the 1964 season were made by members of the Auxiliary, at a recent meeting in Haverhill. Attending that session were Mrs. Currier, president; Mrs. Joseph A. Paladino, vice president; Mrs. Robert C. Ramsdell, treasurer; Mrs. Albert Rothseid, program; Mrs. George V. West, membership; and Mrs. Melucci, publicity.

What's Going On At The CO-OP?

Are our president, Mrs. Cornelia Fitts, and directors Harold King, Ben Slade and Ted Coates helping stock the shelves?

Not at all. This is annual inventory day. The CO-OP officers are there – not so much to help with the work as to protect the stockholders' interests by assuring a "correct count."

That is typical of the Andover CO-OP. Local citizens who are its officers and directors gladly give their time to help assure the proper operation of this democratic enterprise which belongs to some 2800 local shareholders.

Doesn't that kind of business deserve YOUR patronage in 1964?

Juniors Saw Bird Film

Members of the Andover Junior Garden Club met Saturday morning, Jan. 4, to watch the movie "Once Upon A Windowsill", a delightful presentation of bird life. Mrs. Adeline Wright, Club counselor, narrated the film.

Prize winners in the Audubon quiz, which was held at the beginning of the meeting, were Melissa Sherman, Phyllis Thomes, Frederic Thomes, Diane Schofield, Deborah Newhouse, Susan Ryder, Robin Daly and Mary McCabe. The prizes awarded were unique bird-feeders and portfolios of American birds. For the quiz to be presented at the next meeting, members were asked to learn the identifying characteristics of the following birds: The nuthatch, purple finch, bronze grackle, tree sparrow, blue jay, gold finch, junco, downy woodpecker and evening grosbeak.

In response to an invitation from Mrs. Daniel J. Boyle Jr., state junior chairman, all Club members are participating in a contest to name the Litterbug Watchdogs, and all the names submitted on Saturday will be forwarded to the State Federation of Garden Clubs.

The next meeting of the Junior Garden Club, which will be held Saturday, Feb. 1, under the direction of Mrs. Francis H. McCabe, will feature Japanese styled note cards using flowers and dried materials.

Special Article For Facilities

A special article, to determine voter sentiment on expanded recreation facilities, will be placed in the annual town meeting warrant.

Calling for approximately $10,000, the article will spell out some expanded services at Andover Recreation Park and the Pomp's Pond area.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff suggested the article, as a method of finding out how fast the voters want to move ahead.

Recreation Committee Chairman James D. Doherty asked the manager whether, if the article is defeated, all work contemplated in the article will be let go for the year.

Mr. Duff replied by stating that maintenance funds must always be included in the budget.

It was unclear whether any expansion will be undertaken with funds from any other source, if the article is defeated.

He has played the lute under the baton of Leopold Stokowski and has appeared in the Library of Congress, Harvard, Columbia, and Athenaeum Music in Hartford and most recently Town Hall in New York.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Hidden Charges

Someone has to straighten out the town's fiscal policies or the voters won't ever know – despite their policy-setting vote at town meeting.– what any department truly costs.

The most bare-faced example of building up one department, at the expense of another, is the growth of recreation in the town.

Under present policy, various other departments will continue to work for the recreation department – but will pay for the work themselves. Thus the labor, and probably the equipment costs, will be hidden from view. Growth of one department will truly be at the expense of the other.

Town Manager Duff told the Recreation Committee Monday night that it should not be at all concerned with the amount of work other departments may do for the recreation department in 1964. He said this will depend on circumstances during the year, and will be more or less, depending on how other projects fare. In his opinion, the type of accounting needed to establish true costs for each department is unnecessary and too expensive for the town to establish.

We maintain that the voters have a right to set the growth pattern of each department, by appropriating funds for that department.

If $40,000 is voted, year-end tallies should place the expenditures at or under this amount. It makes little sense for the voters to appropriate funds, if these are not to be followed specifically during the year. It may be legal, but it certainly is unethical, for officials to spend amounts in excess of the appropriation by utilizing other departments' resources.

We have reached a point where, it seems to us, the choice is clear.

Either the voters must appropriate a lump sum, and allow the manager to spend it as he sees fit during the year, or the specific appropriations voted at town meeting must be followed, not only to the letter of the law but also within its spirit.

Hiding expenses incurred for one department, by putting them through on warrants of other departments where the work was performed, is a technique which should be resisted strenuously by every citizen who wants to know where his tax dollars are going.

Take A Fresh Look

Various individuals and organizations have been raising a fuss over contemplated purchase of the Barnard property, on the west side of Rt. 28 near Ballardvale and Alderbrook rds.

The land has been requested by the School Committee as a site for a new elementary school, and it now appears that purchase agreements may be reached with the owners.

Objections to the site are based on its proximity to the the South School, the necessity of crossing a major highway to reach the site, land conditions affecting drainage and septic tanks.

Before final agreements are reached, it would be sensible for concerned town officials to once again explore all of the reasons for selecting the land in the first place, and review the objections now being raised. At least this fresh look at the problem would result in an answer based on up-to-date information – a reasonable thing for responsible town officials to do, in the best interests of the community.

Candidates - Where Are You?

Criticism of local government – heard so frequently, and often with accompanying bitterness – carries with it an implied responsibility which is totally lacking.

This is the responsibility to take steps to correct those things which are wrong, to strengthen and support those which are correct, and to propose and endorse those which are missing.

Yet we see little attempt to meet this responsibility; most residents are apparently quite content to comment negatively, but are unwilling to seek office and otherwise meet the challenges of municipal affairs.

How else can we explain the amazing disinterest in the elective offices open this year – three for Selectmen, two on the School Committee, one for Moderator.

After hearing all the grumbling about the things wrong with the town government, and all the complaints about official actions of board or committee members, we expected a lot of candidates would come forth. Certainly if there are as many things wrong with the government as some folks claim, then there must be citizens with strength of purpose enough to present these claims to the voters.

Let's hear from them, before Jan. 27 and the deadline for filing papers expires – contests for every position are the only way to get complete satisfaction at the polls.

Down the Years with The Townsman

75 Years Ago – January, 1889

A local woman, on reading the discussions about locating the horse railway here, claims it reminds her of the story about Phillips Academy wanting to settle in North Reading. The townspeople there, she claims, met in solemn consultation and decided that having the academy in their midst would bring in too many strangers, and that this would not be beneficial to the town.

The Selectmen have signed and delivered to the Lawrence and Andover Street Railway Co. the permission to locate their line in Andover. There is to be a spur track to the railway on Essex st.

The annual report of the Andover Savings Bank shows deposits of over $1,849,532.

The Ballardvale column this week carries an item: "The drum corps is practicing nightly, but they should see that it doesn't become a nuisance."

50 Years Ago – January, 1914

Miss Ella Holt of the Cross Coal Co. has been ill at her home.

Chester Harnden of this town is in the Lawrence General Hospital, where he underwent an operation.

Miss Clara Putnam has recently purchased, from William M. Wood, the Miller property in Frye Village. It adjoins the present estate "Arden".

The fire department was called shortly after seven Wednesday evening to the home of Colver J. Stone on Locke st., where the waterfront on the stove had blown out. Also this week there was a fire in the Andover club rooms in the Musgrove Building.

Among the recently-organized business firms, which have received charters from the Commonwealth, is the Milton Tire and Rubber Co. of Boston. The firm is made up of Philip Hardy, Charles M. Riddock and Herbert E. Pender.

The stockholders of the National Bank have advised the directors that they accept the provisions of the Federal Reserve Act, and wish to have the government notified of this.

25 Years Ago – January, 1939

Very little interest has developed in the March election as yet. No candidate, other than a present office holder, has taken out nomination papers as yet. There are plenty of rumors, but no facts with which to deal.

A group of 28 women met at the home of Mrs. M. P. Graham, and heard a talk on the newest election plan - proportional representation. Lispenard Phister explained the complicated system, which is now permissable under the state law.

Floyd Darby was installed as master of Andover Grange Tuesday evening.

The state has guaranteed that our local water is not polluted but does not explain what causes a "slight earthy-vegetable odor" found in the water by state chemists as well as hundreds of local persons.

10 Years Ago – January, 1954

A revision of the studies program offered students in grades 9-12 in the public schools has been adopted by the School Committee. One of the changes is abolition of course names and the requirement that students take certain basic work each year.

Cmdr. Donald D. Dunn, U.S.N.R., has completed his service with the Navy and has returned to his position as director of physical education at Punchard.

A school department budget of $553,909 has been voted by the School Committee. The figure was increased Tuesday night by the sum of $6,500, representing additional amounts recommended by the Finance Committee. The latter Committee also has approved an emergency $15,000 transfer to allow the School Committee to pay its December bills.

A public hearing will be held Jan. 14, by the rent control board, to see whether there is any further need for its services. There has been little business for the board to do, and there have been no questions about rents at all during the past two months. If there are no shortages of rentals, the board can declare rents decontrolled, but retain the right to act at a future date if necessary.

What Our Readers Say—

To the Editor of the Townsman:

"The Andover League of Women Voters wants to urge all interested citizens of the town to consider running for town office.

"Men and women who have an interest in public affairs, an eagerness to learn more about town government, the ability to make sound judgments, and a willingness to serve the community are needed as candidates for the positions of School Committee member, Selectman, Moderator and Housing Authority member.

"As a non-partisan organization dedicated to supporting and implementing good government, but not particular candidates, the League of Women Voters hopes that you who read this letter will thoughtfully consider your own qualifications.

"The deadline for submitting nomination papers to the town clerk is Friday, Jan. 27 at 5 p.m."

Gift To The Library

Many libraries have established the idea of books as memorials and the Memorial Hall Library has received a number of such memorials over the years. It is usual for families or friends who wish to make this form of a gift to ask for suggestions of books in the area of interest of the person they have in mind. Many lovely children's books have brightened the shelves because of this thoughtfulness. Garden books are another favorite tribute to the garden loving friend. Clubs as well as individuals sometimes wish to consider this form of a gift, and are cordially invited to ask the cooperation and suggestion of the librarians.

SPECIAL MEETING NOW CERTAIN

money spent for plans for new schools be appropriated for the purpose by town meeting.

No loopholes could be found, to make money available more quickly than March, according to School Supt. Edward I. Erickson.

He said the Building Committee is continuing to interview architects, however and to review the planning and decisions concerning the type of construction needed by the town.

Before that Committee reaches a decision on a new high school vs the addition, the School Committee plans to provide full educational specifications and a final report on its architectural studies.

The two reports are to be given the School Committee by Jan. 21.

Architect Frank Crimp made his final verbal report to the Committee Tuesday night.

He summed up the study his office undertook, and renewed his recommendation that a new high school be constructed.

He promised to itemize all the reasons why a new school is, in his opinion, preferable, in the final report.

NEW FACES ON TOWN BOARDS

"Realizing that the filing date for all candidates is less than three weeks away and that there are no declared candidates at this time for any office, I feel obligated to announce that I will not seek re-election to the school committee.

"I do this in an effort to underline the importance of a healthy and broad field of aspirants for this office and to include all interested citizens with the same conviction that widespread interest and support of our school system is essential to not only our growing community, but to our country as a whole. Service in this capacity is extremely rewarding.

"Not only do I feel that I have aided in the education of the youngsters of Andover, but I feel grateful for having served with our superintendent and other administrators and the various members of the school committee during these past six years.

"I make this announcement with certain regrets in this respect and add with conviction that many of our townspeople are able and well equipped to bring new stimulation to the direction of our schools."

NO PLACE FOR DUCKS

straightened out the immediate problem of the bacteria.

Then, with whoops and hollers, a campaign started to scare the ducks out of house and home. Flashing lights at night; yells and bellows during daylight hours; each seems to work.

By mid-week, there are only a few die-hard ducks left.

And the "Quack! Quack!" you hear coming from the reservoir now certainly isn't a duck's rendition of "Home Sweet Home" by any means.

And what does Mr. Bassett have to say about all this?

In sort of a resigned voice - possibly a little hoarse from scaring ducks, he mutters "It never, ever, happened before. Why me?"

TB Testing Is Planned

The annual TB testing program for public school students in Andover will get under way in the near future.

Consent slips are now being distributed to pupils in grades one, nine and 11.

The parent's consent is necessary for a pupil to participate in the program.

All slips must be returned to the schools not later than Jan. 24. Testing cannot be done until all slips are returned.

The tuberculin test is an important part of a regular health check-up. Testing by means of the Tuberculin Tine Test is one of the modern ways of finding people who have been in contact with tuberculosis.

The Tine Test consists of a plastic handle attached to a small metal disc on which are four small points. These are coated with the test material. The disc is applied to the forearm with a slight pressure and is held in place for a second or two. It is virtually painless.

There may be a slight reaction in some cases. This reaction does not mean that the student has active disease. It indicates that at some time the individual has come in contact with an active case of tuberculosis and should have a chest x-ray taken to determine if there is any damage to the lungs. Free chest x-rays of all positive reactors will be taken by a technician at Essex Sanatorium.

This program is part of a county-wide tuberculosis control program and is sponsored by the Andover School Department, Board of Health, Essex County Sanatorium and the Essex County Health Association, and is a Christmas Seal service.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Napoli and daughter, Shirley, spent several days in Connecticut visiting relatives during the holiday period.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Sullivan and their four children spent several days in Fall River with their parents at Christmas time.

Vesper Services At Phillips

This Sunday evening at five o'clock at the Cochran Chapel at Phillips Academy, there will be the first of a series of vesper services to be held during January and February at five o'clock Sunday evenings.

The list of speakers includes a number of outstanding leaders in the educational and religious world.

The first of the speakers will be Monsignor Francis J. Lally, the Editor of The Pilot, one of the principal organs of the Roman Catholic Church. Monsignor Lally will arrive in Andover early enough to meet informally with a group of students in the Sylvia Pratt Kemper Chapel, where he will welcome their questions concerning the present Ecumenical trends in the relationships between Catholics, Protestants and Jews.

Other speakers at this series of Vesper Services include Dr. Will Herberg, author of "Judaism and Modern Man", Dr. Arthur Lee Kinsolving, rector of St. James' Episcopal Church in New York City; The Rev. William Sloane Coffin, chaplain at Yale University; Saville Davis, chief editorial writer of The Christian Science Monitor; and the Rev. James Robinson, founder and director of Operation Crossroads, Africa

Young people and adults in the community are welcome to attend these vesper services, which are held as a regular part of the program of religion for Phillips Academy students.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Reed and their family of Frederic, Md., visited with their former friends in West Parish during the holiday season.

Larry Sullivan of Lowell st. spent several days recently with friends in New York City.

Bruce Meyers and Kent Warner have resumed their studies at the University of Massachusetts after spending the Christmas vacation at their homes.

Phillip Coates has resumed his studies at Brown University after spending the holidays with his parents, Col. and Mrs. Theodore Coates of Woburn st.
